

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

THROUGH ONE HUNDRED YEARS

Through 100 Years

ONE hundred years ago—in 1810—when our house was founded, James Madison was President of the United States; the War of 1812 had not begun; the population of New York City was about 96,000—less than that of Albany or Hartford at the present day. Then the site of the Astor House (which was not built until twenty years later) was considered "up-town," being virtually in the suburbs of New York; and the retail shopping district was in what is now particularly "down-town."

The last hundred years have witnessed a wonderful growth of the city of New York, and the importance and size of the retail jewelry business have kept pace with it. The comparatively modest shop of our founder was succeeded by a larger shop, that by a still larger, and our present establishment is a result of a continuous growth, so that today this company carries pearls alone to a greater value than the whole stock of the largest and most prominent jewelers of a hundred years ago.

The business was established in the year 1810 at 166 Broadway by Erastus Barton, and the following chronology of the house is interesting:—

Founded in 1810 by Erastus Barton.

Succeeded by Fred'k Marquand.

THROUGH ONE HUNDRED YEARS

Then Marquand & Barton.

Then Marquand & Brothers.

Then Marquand & Co.

1839, Ball, Tompkins & Black.

1851, Ball, Black & Co.

1874, Black, Starr & Frost.

1908, Black, Starr & Frost, Incorporated; the incorporation being made desirable on account of the deaths of Robert C. Black and Aaron V. Frost.

Within the past hundred years the house has occupied the following locations:—

From 1810, the time of its founding, to 1833, 166 Broadway.

1810

THROUGH ONE HUNDRED YEARS

From 1833 to 1848, 181 Broadway.

From 1848 to 1861, 247 Broadway.

From 1861 to 1876, 565 and 567 Broadway.

From 1876 to 1898, 251 Fifth Ave., cor. 28th St.

Since 1898, the present location, 436 and 438 Fifth Ave., cor. 39th St.

From its founding—through one hundred years—it has been the aim of this house to furnish to its patrons the best obtainable in jewelry and silverware—that its goods and service should be unexcelled.

THROUGH ONE HUNDRED YEARS

That this endeavor has been appreciated is evidenced by its exceptional growth and the enviable position it holds with the purchasing public; and also by the fact that among its patrons are numbered the grandchildren and great grandchildren of those who first bought from its founders a century ago.

The Jewelry of Time

ON the following pages are a few illustrations of some famous and beautiful pieces of jewelry of different countries and ancient times.

While the originals of these pieces are not purchasable, and may be seen only in the great museums, they are, nevertheless, interesting on account of their real beauty and true worth.

This suggests to us that in buying jewelry we should bear in mind that the purchase of today may become the heirloom of the future.

PRECIOUS STONES
OUR assortment of diamonds and precious stones is always large and of great variety. We import direct, and our connections in the principal markets of the world give us exceptional opportunities for purchasing desirable stones.

The pearl—whose natural beauty needs no hand of man to bring to perfection—has always been a favorite of our house and of its individual members, and it naturally follows that experts having especially fine specimens to offer, and buyers who are looking for choicest gems, alike, naturally seek us.

Our collection of pearls, mounted and unmounted, forms a display of striking beauty, and should be examined by lovers of this most attractive gem.

All mountings are manufactured in our own factory, by our own employees and under our own supervision. This enables us to produce mounted jewelry in particularly attractive settings and from exclusive designs.

We give particular attention to mounting, in special designs, unset stones selected by the purchaser.

JEWELRY In this department will be found a large and carefully selected stock, comprising novelties of the moment as well as more conventional goods of pleasing patterns, and includes Brooches, Rings, Pins, Chains, Locketts, Buttons, Necklaces, Bracelets, Hair Ornaments, Pendants and Earrings.

THROUGH ONE HUNDRED YEARS

The line is not only large, but chosen with discrimination as to what is best and most desirable, and comprises articles both useful and decorative.

STERLING SILVERWARE

Dinner Services, Tea Services, Dessert Services, and Flatware of every kind—Knives, Forks, Spoons, Ladles, and other articles for table use—occupy a prominent place in this department and are shown in all designs, from the most simple to the most ornate.

In this department will be found Smokers' Sets, Inkstands, Tankards, Bowls, Loving Cups, Candlesticks, Fruit Dishes and Vases in great variety.

A special feature of this department is the designing and making of articles suitable for prizes and trophies and also the production of original conceptions in silver as appropriate pieces for presentations. We are always pleased to confer with committees or individuals concerning such matters, and are prepared to furnish drawings and estimates.

We are, however, prepared, in cases of emergency, to execute work with particular promptness, and are pleased to accommodate in every way possible.

In the matter of Coats-of-Arms and Genealogies, correctness is necessary, and we are prepared to make careful research and explorations as to these.
